Customer Reviews

"The story's colorful, retro-inspired illustrations bring the beloved city highlights to life, and make them seem magical again even to a jaded city kid who walks past them every day."

•Red Tricycle "Taking a romp through the city doesn't have to be exhausting - just add it to your bedtime story ritual!"

•Red Tricycle "These wonderful, easy-reading books for children of all ages highlights many of the wonderful things to do and see while traveling to these cities. Both armchair and actual travelers will relish getting lost with

Larry. Cheryl Weems, Deschutes Public Library system, Bend Bulletin
 “Informative tidbits coupled with the rhyming words of Michael Mullin make it a more enjoyable and educational read. Being lost and searching has never been this much fun, and in the end Larry and his owner Pete reunite to drive back home exhausted from all the excitement. They also take with them the promise of yet another cool adventure the next day.”
Kaye Cloutman, Sacramento Book Review
 “This is a first-rate lost and found journey. The book also offers stunningly bright retro-cartoon style illustrations, often from the perspective of Larry the dog that will appeal to all preschoolers.”
Park Ridge Library
 “One of the best ABC books about Seattle around (yes, there are that many).”
Rachel Hart, Seattle magazine
 “short, sweet and pure eye candy. The best kind of treat of all.”
Rachel Hart, Seattle magazine

JOHN SKEWES began work as a product designer and character artist for Disney Consumer Products before leaving to start his own company, Retrodyne Industries, in 2001. His clients include Warner Bros., Hanna-Barbera, Fox, Pixar, and Simon & Schuster. As the creator and illustrator of the award-winning Larry Gets Lost children’s book series, John has followed Larry from the southern tip of Texas to tiny Nome, AK, and has been lost several times himself. He has illustrated over 20 children’s books, including the Elliott the Otter and A Ticket to the Pennant. ERIC ODE is a national award-winning children’s singer, songwriter, author, and poet who performs for schools, libraries, and community events. He is also the author of Sea Star Wishes, Bigfoot Does Not Like Birthday Parties and co-author of Larry Gets Lost Under the Sea.

Not as good as the Chicago version.
