Book by Jim Mesko

I really enjoy the "In Action" series as they are an easy read, and profusely illustrated with many black and white photographs; as well as several line drawings of different sub-types. The front and back covers are nicely illustrated by Don Greer. The "Centerfold" covers different models from an RB-57A through the RB-57F (Modified WB-57F). The text covers how the American's were impressed by a British design, that they worked out a licensing agreement with the British. The American models were to be produced by Martin Aircraft Co. Most of the photographs cover the action in Viet Nam, where the B-57 was widely used. Since Airfix of England has released an excellent model of the B-57B in 1/48th scale, this book is a MUST if you want to do the model right.

Good product and service.

great item, got here quick

Good book, but a bit generic, Not enough details about each variant of the aircraft.
