How To Build A Motorcycle: A Racing Adventure Of Mechanics, Teamwork, And Friendship (Technical Tales)

Synopsis

Eli, Phoebe, and Hank once again join forces to build another miniature vehicle--a motorcycle! How to Build a Motorcycle continues the Technical Tales series, where a group of three unlikely friends--a rat, a sparrow, and a frog--come together to build another vehicle--a motorcycle! As they start working, they encounter many unexpected obstacles, teaching them (and the reader) about the different parts that make a motorcycle work. Detailed illustrations explain the overall functions of the engine, clutch, brakes, distributors, as well as many other parts of the motorcycle. Through hard work and perseverance, the three friends learn about mechanics and teamwork as they work together to build a miniature motorcycle.

"With the same mix of plot and specific mechanical detail that went into building a car and an airplane in previous volumes of the series, the all-animal Scrap Pack reunites to construct a racing motorcycle from frame up - School Library Journal

Martin Sodomka is a graphic designer based in the Czech Republic. He is a self-published illustrator of books for children. A beautiful storyteller, Saskia Lacey is an educational children's author with an extensive teaching background. Lacey has developed engaging children's stories and projects for a variety of publishers and illustrators.

This is great for kids and adults with no experience with motorcycles. It provides good, basic information and, with adults, should stimulate interest in more technical information. Well presented for kids in the 8 to 12 age group.

very nice quality and the story is not only fun but also accurate

Great Christmas Gift

I ordered this for my friends 3 year old daughter. I want to order another copy for myself, it's delightful, and has a ton of great information!

My Grandson loves this series of books. Really a perfect book!

Great experience would highly recommend

Good.
